Sherburn Aero Club Celebrates 100 Years of Aviation with a Special Anniversary Fly In – Saturday 29th August 2026

Sherburn in Elmet, North Yorkshire – Sherburn Aero Club is proud to announce a unique aviation celebration to mark its 100th Anniversary, bringing together pilots, aviation enthusiasts, families, and visitors for a memorable day at one of the UK’s most historic airfields.

The “100th Anniversary Fly In” will showcase a wonderful variety of aircraft, entertainment, and attractions throughout the day, celebrating a century of aviation heritage at Sherburn airfield.

All aircraft are welcome to fly in and join the celebrations, especially vintage aircraft. To encourage visiting pilots from across the country, landing fees will be waived for the entire day, making this a fantastic opportunity to be part of our landmark aviation event.

Visitors can look forward to:

- Fly-ins from visiting aircraft of all types
- Aerobatic and wing walking displays in the afternoon
- Fun fair and market stalls
- Live entertainment throughout the day and evening
- A BBQ serving refreshments and food
- A dedicated Pilots’ Area for visiting crews and aviators
- Opportunities to meet fellow aviation enthusiasts and explore the airfield
- Overnight camping free of charge with evening entertainment and BBQ

The event aims to celebrate not only the rich history of Sherburn Aero Club but also the vibrant aviation community that continues to thrive at the airfield today.

“Reaching our 100th anniversary is a remarkable milestone,” said a spokesperson for Sherburn Aero Club. “We are delighted to welcome pilots, members, local residents, and visitors to help us celebrate a century of flying at Sherburn. Whether arriving by air or by road, everyone is invited to join and celebrate the day.”

Sherburn Aero Club, the current AOPA Aerodrome of the Year, has been recognised for its outstanding efforts to engage with local communities, schools, and charities, including its support for Flying Scholarships for Disabled People.

Sherburn Aero Club is everything a good British aero club should be: accessible, friendly, and affordable. It is a real asset to the local area and the general aviation community.

Further details, including event timings and programme information, will be announced in due course.
